

Mr. William BRYDIE-WATSON

Senior Legal Officer, The International Institute for the Unification of Private Law (UNIDROIT)

William Brydie-Watson is an Australian lawyer who specialises in secured transactions law and private international law. Before joining UNIDROIT, William was a government lawyer in the Private International Law and International Arbitration section of the Australia Attorney-General's Department, where he worked primarily on treaty negotiation and the implementation of private international law treaties in Australia. At UNIDROIT, he is primarily responsible for the implementation of the Mining, Agriculture and Construction (MAC Agreement) to the 2001 Cape Town Convention on International Interests in Mobile Equipment and the development of a Model Law on Factoring. William also serves as UNIDROIT's liaison with the Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) forum and as manager of the Institute's Scholarship and Internship Programs. Admitted to practice in New South Wales and High Court of Australia, he has a Bachelor of Art (honours), a Bachelor of Laws and Master of Laws from the Australian National University. William also lectures international Secured Transactions Law at the Eotvos Lorand Faculty of Law in Budapest.
