

Ms. Laura McCullough
Head of Professional Conduct, Law Society of Northern Ireland

Laura McCullough joined the Law Society of Northern Ireland as Head of Professional Conduct in September 2022 with responsibility for maintaining high standards of professional conduct within the Solicitor profession in Northern Ireland. Her remit covers client complaints, professional conduct complaints, referrals to the Solicitors Disciplinary Tribunal, AML and inspection of firms.

Previously Laura qualified as a solicitor in England and Wales in 2009 and was admitted to the Roll of Solicitors in Northern Ireland in 2010. Having spent four years in private practice specialising in family law Laura then moved back to Northern Ireland and into the field of social care regulation for the following 12 years. Leading on regulatory reform, fitness to practise proceedings and investigations.

Laura holds professional qualifications in Complaints Handling and Investigation, Mediation Accreditation, and the Professional Certificate in International Regulatory Affairs.
