Eugene Lam is both a practicing solicitor and a registered professional surveyor (quantity surveying).

He has extensive experience in contract administration, preparing monetary and non-monetary claims for main contractors and sub-contractors in various kinds of construction projects, and handling construction litigation and arbitration cases when practicing as a quantity surveyor / construction claims consultant as well as a solicitor.

He has practiced as a quantity surveyor / construction claims consultant for 8 years. He has been practicing as a solicitor since 2012 specializing in handling construction-related disputes. He advises his lay clients on all their construction-related legal needs, from drafting of contracts (and sub-contracts) to resolution of disputes arising out of the projects.

He has been giving advice and handling disputes on a wide spectrum of construction projects (over 100 numbers) including but not limited to the followings :-

- (a) Building projects for main contractors, and various trades of sub-contractors, for instance, fitting out works, alterations and additions works, building maintenance works, electrical works, external wall (façade and roof covering) systems, structural steel works, formwork works, etc.;
- (b) Piling projects, including foundation works and marine piling; and

- (c) Civil works projects, for instance, reclamation works, drainage works, rehabilitation works of water mains, sloping works, road and bridge works, tunnel works, etc.

He is an arbitrator listed on the Hong Kong Institute of Architects / Hong Kong Institute of Surveyors (HKIA/HKIS) Joint Panel of Arbitrators and the Panel of Arbitrators of the Law Society of Hong Kong. He is also an adjudicator on the HKIAC Panel of Adjudicators and the HKICAdj's List of Adjudicators since 2020 and 2022 respectively. He is also one of the co-authors of the "Adjudication Handbook for Security of Payment Provisions" jointly published by the Society of Construction Law Hong Kong and the Department of Real Estate and Construction of The University of Hong Kong.

He has also represented clients to appear at Magistrates' Courts in relation to industrial summonses.

Eugene speaks English, Cantonese and Putonghua (conversant).
