Welcome Message from the President of The Law Society of Hong Kong

It is with profound pride and deep respect that I extend my heartfelt congratulations to all recipients of the Pro Bono and Community Work Recognition Programme 2025. This year, as we celebrate the sixteenth anniversary of this distinguished Programme, we are reminded of the legal profession's unwavering dedication to justice and its vital role in serving our community through free legal and community services.

Since its inception in 2010, the Programme has honored the remarkable commitment of approximately 2,700 solicitors and 390 law firms, each of whom has demonstrated exemplary service and leadership. Their collective efforts have not only advanced the cause of justice but have also strengthened the very fabric of our society.

At the core of our legal system lies the noble tradition of pro bono work—a conviction that justice must be accessible to all, regardless of circumstance. Through the provision of free legal advice, active community engagement, and the promotion of legal education, our members have transformed their expertise into a beacon of hope, fairness, and empowerment for those most in need.

This Programme stands as a testament to the highest ideals of the Law Society: professionalism, integrity, and compassion in service to the public good. The extraordinary contributions of this year's awardees measured in tens of thousands of hours devoted to pro bono and community service have further reinforced public trust in the rule of law and fostered a more inclusive and harmonious society.

Looking ahead, the Law Society remains steadfast in its commitment to cultivating a sustainable culture of pro bono service within the profession. Through initiatives such as the Free Legal Helpline, the Free Legal Advice Service on Building Management, Law Week, and Teen Talk, we will continue to ensure that justice and equality before the law are not just ideals, but realities accessible to every member of our community.

Once again, I offer my warmest congratulations and sincere gratitude to all honorees. Your selfless dedication exemplifies the true spirit of service and the enduring strength of Hong Kong's legal community. Together, we will continue to inspire, uplift, and serve.

Congratulatory Message from the Duty Lawyer Service

As part of upholding our well-established legal system in Hong Kong, the concept of pro bono is vital to be kept firm. While pro bono is not, and should not be, an alternative to legal aid, it enhanced access to justice for all – especially those most vulnerable.

The pro bono services provide opportunities for people who would not otherwise be able to access justice, to have access to legal information, advice or representation, and to have an understanding of their legal rights and liabilities. We champion pro bono because of the positive contribution and difference it makes for individuals, communities and society.

From the lawyers' perspectives, in discharging an ethical professional responsibility, lawyers who engage in pro bono works demonstrate the lawyers' commitment to safeguard equality and accessibility under our legal system, provide an opportunity to use one's professional skills for good helping people in life-changing situations, and strengthen the lawyers' legal knowledge and skills.

On behalf of the Duty Lawyer Service, I express my gratitude and admiration, not only for the lawyers who are receiving awards, but all those who are engaging in pro bono works. Your tireless dedication, commitment, hard work, and generosity have made a significant impact, and I am honoured to recognize your contributions and immensely grateful for your unwavering support in the pro bono services. I hope through extensive recognition, we continue to promote the pro bono culture in Hong Kong.
