Dear Mr. Moss,

Re: Panel of Solicitors for the Official Administrator

I refer to my letter dated 17 October 2003 on the above subject. I wish to inform you that the recruitment exercise is now formally closed.

There are altogether 65 applications that fall within the criteria set by us. Every year we have only about 10 cases.

For administration purpose we have to arrange them in certain order. A list of names (herein enclosed) has been chosen at random and has been prepared. The list forms the Panel. When the Official Administrator instructs a solicitor, he will generally follow the order as shown on the panel unless otherwise decided by him. The Official Administrator reserves the right to instruct or not to instruct any person in the Panel.

I shall be grateful if you will publish this letter with the list.

Please note that inclusion of a firm in the list should not be construed as a recognition of its competence or expertise in that area of the law. The list should not be taken as a priority list and should not be used for advertisement purpose.

Yours sincerely,

(Christopher C. Chan)
Registrar
